
Ovarian cancer signs

OVARIAN CANCER ACTION

What are ovaries?

Women have ovaries in their tummy.

There are two on each side of your womb, but you cannot see them from the outside.

The womb is where a baby grows when someone is pregnant.

What is ovarian cancer?

You can get an illness called ovarian cancer.

Cancer can be very serious.

Some people can get really sick or die from cancer.

If you are worried about ovarian cancer

You need to talk to your doctor.

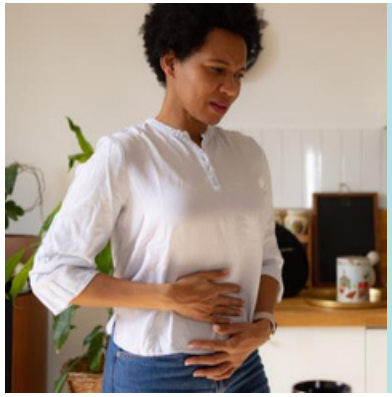
You can tell the GP surgery that you are worried about ovarian cancer.

Signs and symptoms of ovarian cancer

Bloating that doesn’t come and go.

Bloating is a tummy that feels bigger than usual.

Feeling full quickly when you eat or finding it harder to eat.



Pain in your tummy that you feel most days.

Needing to wee more often.

Tick if you have these symptoms

	Every day	Every other day	Less often
 Bloating
 Tummy pain
 Feeling full quickly
 Needing to wee more often

Other signs to tick

Changes in your poo

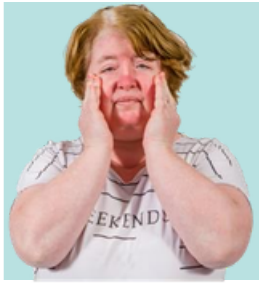
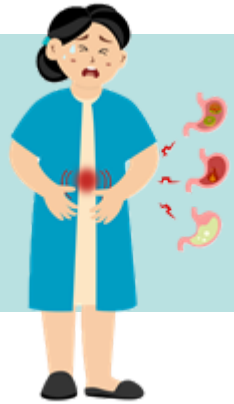
Losing weight without trying to



Feeling tired

Back pain

Bleeding from your vagina when you're not on your period



Digestion problems

Photosymbols®
Publisher Licence 6059514627