

THE LITTLE FIR TREE

The English version of “В лесу родилась ёлочка”

The fir tree in the silent wood
Grew slowly tall and strong.
All through the summer there they stood,
And all the winter long.

The furry rabbits hopped about
Beneath their boughs all day,
Until a wolf came bounding out
To frighten them away.

There came a woodsman in the sleigh
To cut a fir tree down.
He chose a tree and chopped away
And carried it to town.

The little fir tree bright with toys
Stands here on Christmas day,
And all the children gather round
To clap hands, dance and play.
