INTRODUCTION TO THE EVENT

The 2019 Solheim Cup and PING Junior Solheim Cup will take place at Gleneagles in Perthshire, Scotland the week of 9th September.

The aim of the competition is to give junior golfers from both sides of the Atlantic the opportunity to gain international match play experience as well as the chance to meet, learn and be inspired by the professional players playing in The Solheim Cup. It will be the third time both The Solheim Cup and the PING Junior Solheim Cup are incorporated within The Solheim Cup week at the same venue which significantly enhances the profile of the junior event. This follows the success of the last two matches at Golf Club St. Leon-Rot, Germany, in 2015 and Des Moines Golf & Country Club in Iowa, USA, in 2017 where the matches were combined to great effect.

In 2019, the junior tournament will move in closer proximity to the senior version and will be played on the Tuesday 10th September and Wednesday 11th September. This date adjustment ensures the PING Junior Solheim Cup will get the exposure and profile it deserves as it is positioned as an important part of a week where the hosts, VisitScotland, aim to make this the most family-orientated Solheim Cup to date.

The aim of The 2019 Solheim Cup is to not only highlight the stunning assets of Scotland, the Home of Golf, but also build on the legacy of the successful 2014 Ryder Cup at Gleneagles. It will underline that Scotland is the perfect stage for major golf events as it seeks to help inspire a new generation of children to take up the game invented in their home country.

Mickey Walker OBE, the first Captain of the European Solheim Cup team from 1990 to 1996, will Captain the European team as the top 12 European junior amateurs take on their U.S. counterparts over the two days. In a format similar to the senior match, they will play six fourball and six foursomes matches the first day, and twelve singles matches the second day.

The full criteria for qualification for the 2019 PING Junior Solheim Cup is outlined within this handbook with the leading six players from the PJSC ranking (based on results from the 2019 PJSC qualifying events) automatically selected along with six Captain's Picks based on performances at amateur events along with the European Women's Amateur Ranking.

Karsten and Louise Solheim were the visionaries behind the introduction of The Solheim Cup in 1990. The idea of staging a prestigious transatlantic competition for girls, similar to The Solheim Cup, was first proposed by John Solheim, PING's current Chairman and CEO, who was determined to provide talented young girl golfers with a platform on which they could forward their careers by competing at the highest level against their peers from the other side of the Atlantic.

"Since its beginning in 2002, we've been delighted with the role the PING Junior Solheim Cup has played in advancing girls' golf around the world", said John Solheim. "The interest and excitement continues to build with every playing of the event as the top juniors from Europe and the United States come together for the honour of representing their countries on an international stage unlike any other they've ever faced. They come away with memories and friendships that last a lifetime. It also gives us a look into the future of women's golf as numerous girls have gone onto play major roles in The Solheim Cup itself, again proving the level of competition and skill that takes centre stage in every PING Junior Solheim Cup. We look forward to the 2019 edition at Gleneagles. The competition will be fierce and sportsmanship will be on full display with fans travelling far and wide to share their passion and love for the game of golf."

The first PING Junior Solheim Cup was staged in 2002, at Oak Ridge Country Club in Hopkins, Minnesota, and it proved to be an instantaneous success with the home American team defeating the visitors from Europe by 17-7. That result was to signal the start of a sequence which saw the home team win each of the next five matches and which was not broken until America retained the trophy by halving the match at Knightsbrook Hotel, Spa & Golf Resort in Trim, Co. Meath, Ireland, in 2011. Subsequently, the Americans have won the last three matches, most recently in Des Moines two years ago, although the 13-11 scoreline illustrates just how keenly-competitive the contest remains.

The first PING Junior Solheim Cup also set another trend, which has endured to this day in that it featured several players who have gone on to forge successful careers on both the Ladies European Tour and the LPGA Tour. Azahara Munoz, Paula Creamer, Brittany Lincicome, Brittany Lang and Morgan Pressel all played in that inaugural match and they were followed in subsequent years by the likes of Carlota Ciganda, Georgia Hall, Caroline Hedwall, Charley Hull, Caroline Masson, Anna Nordqvist, Beatrice Recari, Mel Reid, Florentyna Parker, Emily Pederson, Vicky Hurst, Jessica Korda, Lexi Thompson, Alison Lee and Angel Yin in more recent matches.

All of those top-ranked players have gone on to represent their Continent in The Solheim Cup and several have also gone on to win Major titles which is just one of the reasons why John Solheim and the rest of the Solheim family remain as firmly committed to the PING Junior Solheim Cup as they were when they inaugurated the biennial contest 17 years ago.

When I got picked for the PING Junior Solheim Cup, I could not have been more honoured and excited. It was a great experience overall, and I also love playing match play.

When I played in The Solheim Cup in 2017, I felt my experiences at the junior event had helped prepare me for what was ahead. My memories of playing in the Junior Solheim Cup are amongst my most treasured and they helped inspire me to dream of making it into the senior team.

I got the opportunity to play on the 2005 PING Junior Solheim Cup Team in Indiana, USA. It was definitely the highlight of my amateur career. PING and the Solheim family put on a world class event for us juniors, making us feel like pros. We got to stay and watch the “big” girls play the rest of the week inside the ropes and it was so cool to watch my idols, front row. That’s when my dream of one day playing in The Solheim Cup started. Never could I imagine that I now, 13 years later, have played on 5 Solheim Cups. There is no atmosphere like The Solheim Cup and I wish everyone would get to experience what it is like playing in one. My biggest memories from my golfing career all comes from The Solheim Cup and I hope to inspire more players to work hard to make a team in the future, it is so worth it!

I have great memories from the PING Junior Solheim Cup. I enjoyed making great friendship and I loved playing for a team. Golf is such an individual sport and playing for a team is a feeling that you don't experience normally. It really motivated me playing for Europe, for the captain and your teammates. Also, when you look at the names that have played both the Junior Solheim Cup and the Solheim Cup it keeps you motivated. I remember in 2005 and 2007 it was a lot of fun to watch The Solheim Cup and I wanted to be one of those players.

My favorite quote is: "If you can see it in your mind, you can hold it in your hand."

We have identified a great spread of world-class amateur events across Europe for the girls to make their mark and claim those valuable points to climb the PING Junior Solheim Cup 2019 Ranking. I look forward to following the progress of Europe's best juniors closely throughout the year. It is such an exciting opportunity for the juniors and I am expecting the competition to be very intense for those 12 coveted places.

When I was selected to represent Europe in the PING Junior Solheim Cup in 2011 in Ireland, it was my greatest golfing honour at the time. I had won several amateur trophies throughout the UK, but my PJSC selection felt like my first step into big time golf. I remember feeling proud to represent Europe and wear its colours and even more proud to hit the first tee shot of the competition. I can remember that it was the first time that people asked me for my autograph.

Later on when I played my first Solheim Cup, I remember asking the other team members about what to expect about being nervous in front of such large crowds. Having been advised by them that nerves would play a big part, I was really surprised when I stood on the first tee and rather than feeling really nervous, I managed to soak up the fantastic atmosphere created by thousands of chanting fans. This was my first experience of the real big time in golf and I remember thinking to myself I hope I have many more Solheim Cups to come.
