But whenever anyone turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away. Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And we all, who with unveiled faces contemplate the Lord's glory, are being transformed into his image with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

FALLING UPWARD

A Spirituality for the Two Halves of Life

RICHARD ROY

There's so much grey to every story

A long loving look at the “real”

A photograph of two young children, a girl and a boy, crouching in shallow water on a beach at sunset. The girl, on the left, has curly hair and is wearing a light-colored long-sleeved shirt. The boy, on the right, is shirtless and wearing dark swim trunks. They are both looking down at the water, possibly playing with shells or sand. The sun is a large, bright orange orb in the upper center of the frame, casting a long, shimmering reflection down the center of the water. The sky is a mix of orange, pink, and purple. The water's surface is covered in small ripples and reflections of the sunset colors. The overall mood is peaceful and nostalgic.

The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and dark blue. The overall mood is peaceful and nostalgic.
