

CULTURAL INFLUENCERS

Matthew 5:13-16

Jesus was ushering in a new kingdom:

a people who would be completely different than any other kingdom on earth;

a people who would ultimately influence every culture on the planet.

Christians are rubbed into the fabric of our culture to be a preserving agent in the lives of those around us, and the cultures in which we live.

All of us who belong to Jesus are little lights that are peppered across our culture for the purpose of shining on Jesus for our community.

“Christians are attractive to, and attracted to,
people who are not like them.”

- Tim Keller
