FINANCIAL UPDATE: Based on updated financial data (Dec 1), we need $53,000 + $15,000 ($68,000) to balance the books by year end. In our 2016 budget we planned to draw down $15,000 from savings. If we receive $68,000 there will be no need to do that. Please pray for discernment.

SECULAR CHRISTMAS

Dear Friends,

I was in my morning coffee shop this week when out of the blue my neighbour asked me about Donald Trump. It turns out he was a chatty, semi-retired journalist. He was about to give a presentation on Trump and he wanted to know what I thought about his election. He probably noticed the small Bible on my table but I had never talked to him before and he would not have known I am a pastor. However, I do not want to get drawn into political discussions in my regular Starbucks. More about my reasons for this some other time.

What did I say to my neighbour? I said that since we cannot go back in time and change things, we should do the best we can in the present circumstances. I told him that this is my view with every election, not just Trump's. We should work and pray that he rules well and the country prospers. I asked the rhetorical question, "Why should we hope he does a terrible job and wrecks everything?" He responded that many people are hoping he fails spectacularly. I acknowledged that that was true, but I said the election is over; him (Trump) failing in a big time way will only hurt ordinary people in the US and around the world, so let's work well where we are and hope and pray he rules reasonably well.

How does this have anything to do with secular Christmas? A lot, I think. Orthodox Christians like us can easily fall into the trap of lamenting and "looking down our nose" at secular people and how they understand and celebrate Christmas. We talk as if they do not understand the true meaning of Christmas. We demand they put Christ back at the centre of Christmas. We mock their shallowness and commercialism, often while taking a break from Christmas shopping at Tim Horton's!

But, we cannot go back in time and change things. There is now one Christmas holiday, with (as ideal types) two different understandings of the holiday. That is the way the world is. We should accept this and work within the way Canada is to bring out the best of secular Christmas, all the while becoming clearer ourselves on Christmas as a time to remember the birth of Jesus, God's Son and humanity's Saviour.

Mere scolding only comes across as being grumpy and superior. If we want to let our neighbours know how the biblical story of Christmas both fulfills and subverts secular Christmas, then we need to enjoy the many parts of secular Christmas we can agree with. For secular Christmas is a call to connect with family and friends, to be generous and give gifts, to remember the poor, to "hope for a miracle", to embrace optimism. Seeing secular Christmas in this way, we can see how it is unconsciously and incompletely based on biblical Christmas. So, accept and love Canada (and Ottawa) as it is. Let us seek the good of our nation as we share the biblical Gospel with its message of the birth of the Saviour.

GROWING IN GRACE

I need to develop godly attitudes.

- A) Pray for godly attitudes in general & certain attitudes in particular.
- B) Ask others to pray the same thing for you.
- C) Repeat the attitude to help it sink in. Do this in conjunction with A & B!

Attitudes.

- 1) God's grace is deep and wide, covering my past, present and future.
- 2) God knows my history of sin - and still Jesus died to save me.
- 3) If God humbled Himself to save me, I can learn to be humble.

I need to grow in prayer.

A great way to do this is to learn to pray the Bible. Pray this prayer until you can pray without reading: Heavenly Father, Thank You for keeping Your word to send a Messiah, a Saviour. Thank You for keeping Your word to Israel. Thank You for keeping Your promises made to every people group. Thank You for the birth of Jesus, Your Son, the Messiah, the Saviour. Thank You that He came to die upon the cross; Your provision for salvation for every person who receives Him by faith. Help me to live each day mindful of Your promises and mindful that You keep Your Word in surprising ways. In Jesus' name. Amen.

I need to get God's word in my mind and heart.

For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. Isaiah 9:6

I need to do something or start to do something.

Complete the following sentence: "In light of God's word, the Holy Spirit is leading me to _____."

GOING DEEPER

Getting to know each other

Who is your most outrageous relative?

Getting into the Word

Remember to pray before you read! Ask the Lord to have His Word touch your heart.

- 1. Read Matthew 1: 1-17 (I know it's a bit boring!)
- 2. Read Matthew 1:2. Then read Genesis 27.
- 3. Read Matthew 1: 3. Then read Genesis 38.
- 4. Read Matthew 1: 6. Then read 2 Samuel 11

Getting real

How has God spoken to you as you have read His Word?
How has He convicted you?
Can you share this with others so they can pray for you?
